1. What happens if my EMI payment bounces?

A bounce, also called a dishonoured mandate or a failed auto-debit, attracts a bounce charge of Rs. 500 per instance, plus applicable GST. This is separate from late payment interest.

2. What is the late payment charge?

Late payment interest of 2% per month is charged on the overdue EMI amount, calculated from the EMI due date until the date the payment is received. Late payment interest and the bounce charge can both apply to the same missed EMI.

3. Is there a grace period?

Payments received within 3 calendar days of the due date do not attract late payment interest. The bounce charge still applies if an auto-debit attempt failed.

4. Can I change my EMI due date?

Yes. The EMI date can be changed once during the life of the loan. The available due dates are the 1st, 5th, 10th or 15th of the month; no other date can be selected.

Submit the request through the app or the portal at least 10 days before the next EMI date. A new NACH mandate must be registered, and the change takes effect from the following month. There is no fee for the first change.

5. How do I register or replace a NACH mandate?

A NACH mandate can be registered online using net banking or debit card authentication, which activates within 5 working days. Physical mandates take up to 21 working days. An existing mandate must be cancelled before a new one for the same loan becomes active.

6. What payment methods are accepted?

Auto-debit via NACH, UPI, net banking, debit card, and NEFT or RTGS. Cash is accepted at branches up to Rs. 20,000 per transaction. Credit cards are not accepted for EMI payment.

7. When is my payment reflected in the account?

UPI and net banking payments reflect the same working day. NEFT and RTGS reflect within 1 working day. Cheque payments reflect after clearing, typically 3 working days.

8. How do I get an EMI or interest statement?

Account statements, interest certificates and repayment schedules can be downloaded from the app or the portal at any time, free of charge. Branch-issued physical copies attract a fee of Rs. 200 per document.

9. Who do I contact about a charge I believe is incorrect?

Raise a dispute through the app, the portal, or the grievance email address. Disputes are acknowledged within 3 working days and resolved within 30 days. If you are not satisfied with the resolution, the matter can be escalated to the Principal Nodal Officer and thereafter to the regulatory ombudsman.
